NeoSystems Appoints Gordon Crickman

Director of Information Technology

Seasoned Technology Management Executive Will Help Accounting Managed Service Provider Serve Growing Clientele of Government Contractors

Vienna, Virginia/July 26, 2007 – NeoSystems Corp., a managed service provider delivering accounting and financial services to government contractors and non-profit organizations, today announced that it has appointed Gordon Crickman as Director of Information Technology.

Mr. Crickman will oversee NeoSystems' day-to-day information technology operations. He is responsible for the array of hosted services that NeoSystems provides, including Deltek Time and Expense, Costpoint and GCS Premier Software programs. This, and other NeoSystems' practices, ensures that clients are able to meet the growing and complicated number of government accounting regulations and protocols, while also performing accounting functions efficiently and in a high quality manner.

From 1994-2006, Mr. Crickman held numerous positions of increasing responsibility at Deltek, the leading provider of enterprise management software for project-focused organizations. He managed or performed virtually every aspect of software development and implementation including design, programming, quality assurance, customer support, configuration management, test automation, and release management. His experience in managing Deltek's Database Administration and IT Operations teams makes him uniquely suited for this key management position at NeoSystems.

Commenting on the appointment, Michael Tinsley, President and Chief Executive Officer of NeoSystems said, "Gordon will be an important part of the NeoSystems team. He has a proven track record of successfully managing a variety of teams of technical employees on complex and important projects. His technical knowledge, management skill, and accounting background will ensure that NeoSystems continues to stay ahead of the curve in providing our clients with sophisticated technology and high-quality, on site service."
